SNAP SHOT OF RACE WEEK

8-15 August 2014

Whitsunday Sailing Club's Airlie Beach Race Week has grown over more than two decades to become the largest keel boat regatta off Queensland's mainland coast.

This year, the event will reach a milestone, as the club, competitors and community celebrate the 25th anniversary of race week - affectionately-known as the 'Tropical Shirt Regatta'.

Thousands of entrants and their yachts travel from all over Australia and overseas to the Whitsundays for the event, with its thrilling yet relaxed sailing each day and the social atmosphere each evening.

With all facilities in close proximity, perfect sailing weather and the positive reputation of the Whitsunday Sailing Club, the regatta is highly regarded within the sailing fraternity.

Throughout the week, the regatta features a variety of activities which reflects the fun and exciting atmosphere of Airlie Beach.

A combination of the racing, which showcases the magnificent Whitsunday islands, lively social events each evening and the entertaining 'lay' day, all create a close-knit relationship between sailors, officials, volunteers, supporters and Whitsunday locals.

With the event's positive reputation nationally, it features in Queensland's 'Season of Sailing' campaign and it is known a thrilling event on the maritime calendar.

Creating a positive mesh of enjoyment mixed with sailing, race week is a highlight event in August which also sees the Great Whitsunday Fun Race, Whitsunday Reef Festival and Audi Hamilton Island Race Week following on.
