

The Leiter Clinic at Southern Yacht Club in New Orleans is aimed at improving the competitive sailing skills of junior women sailors planning to compete at the regional and national levels. The clinic will be held from Noon April 24 through 3 pm April 26, 2015. Funding for the clinic is provided by a grant from Judy and Stephanie McLennan, daughter and granddaughter of Nancy Leiter Clagett after whom the Leiter Cup is named.

The clinic is open to girls who will not age out during the 2015 sailing year, meaning that the girl cannot turn 19 during 2015.

As there are a limited number of spots available in the clinic, selection will be based on demonstrated enthusiasm and participation in sailing activities.

There is no fee for the clinic, yet participants must provide their own transportation to and from New Orleans. Laser sailors must bring their own sails and blades, 420 crew sailors should bring a trap harness. Participants will be transported to and from the airport by club volunteers. Housing will be provided. A damage deposit of $250.00 for borrowed boats will be required from each skipper. A reservation deposit of $250.00 will be required. Both deposits will be returned on April 26, 2015 if there is no boat damage and the sailor attends the clinic.
